I have been involved in many aspects of Sound recording for 20 years.

I originally trained as a music engineer in London (Battery studios) and Auckland (Mascot).

I built and co-owned Incubator studios for several years. We recorded many albums and soundtracks including several number one hits , gold and platinum albums.

I was a member of the band The Headless Chickens from 1989 to 1993 and recorded and played on the platinum album “ Body Blow” amongst other sessions.

Since leaving the band I have been scoring music for film and television projects and have over 40 credits.

I started my freelance location Film and Television career in 1990 and have worked on a wide variety of projects,including Documentary,Drama and Commercials.

The last 10 years I have been dividing my time between the studio as a post production engineer.(ADR,Foley and Mixing)and Location recording. I mix many of the shows I do location on.

I have over 80 Documentary and countless Tvc's,and Drama credits to my name.

I believe that having an in depth understanding of the workflow process from acquisition thru final mix makes me a valuable person to have on your crew.

Below are a few of the jobs I have worked on over the years .
